TICA breaks ground on new building in Aalsmeer: next step in growth and renewal

Aalsmeer, 21 October 2025 – With the symbolic groundbreaking ceremony, construction of TICA's new location on Thailandlaan in Aalsmeer has officially begun. This marks an important milestone in TICA's ambition to continuously grow and evolve. The event signals the start of a new chapter where inspiration, entrepreneurship, and innovation take center stage.

During the ceremony, Martijn Cliteur, Rogier Uivel, and Robert Segers symbolically drove the first piles into the ground. This marks the kick-off for a brand-new location designed to offer TICA Members and exhibitors maximum experience and opportunities.

The new building is an investment in the future of TICA and its community of entrepreneurs. It is being developed with a strong focus on flexibility, sustainability, and experience – key pillars to remain the leading purchasing destination in the lifestyle industry for years to come.

“With this new location, we are responding to the needs of our TICA Members. In addition to 20,000 m² of cash & carry space, we are planning 8,000 m² of brand showrooms – doubling the current TICA Projects area,” says Rogier Uivel, Managing Director of TICA. “This is not just about creating more space, but about creating more opportunities for entrepreneurs. We are building a place where inspiration, experience, and efficient purchasing come together, enabling our Members and exhibitors to grow their business even further.”

The construction progress will be documented step by step in the coming months. Members, exhibitors, and other interested parties can follow the developments via tica.nl/en/new-construction-tica-aalsmeer.
